SUGAR MILLRAPID PROGRESS IS BEING MADE IN CONSTRUCTION AND MANY CHANGES APPARENT IN OFFICE

WAILUKU, November 29.—Work on the site of the new Wailuku seems to be going on very rapidly under the supervision of Mr. Russell, and to the casual observer it will be noticed that there are quite a number of changes on the East side of the present mill. The old store building in front of the mill has been entirely changed to suit the purposes of an office and inside of a few weeks the Wailuku Sugar Co. will have an up-to-date office, in striking contrast to the dingy building which they occupied before this.

MANAGER BEWS
AND HIS VIEWSNEW CHIEF OF ROYAL HAWAIIAN HOTEL WILL NOT MAKE ANY RADICAL CHANGES NOW.

"I've been too long in the business to make any radical changes before I know my way about," remarked Manager Bews of the Royal Hawaiian Hotel this morning, "and I think that barring a change in placing the office across the hallway the hotel will remain as it is for the present at all events."

Manager Bews has already established himself in the good will of his guests and of the hotel staff which is a good deal in itself considering that he followed a manager who was also very popular. He is very much of a lodge man, being a member of the following organizations: Capitol Lodge, No. 3, F. & A. M., Omaha, Nebraska; Omaha Chapter, No. 1, R. A. M., Omaha, Nebraska; Dakota Commandery, No. 1, K. T., Deadwood, Dakota; El Kalah Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., Salt Lake City, Utah, Southern Jurisdiction of the A. and A. Rite, 32°; Omaha, No. 2, I. O. F., Omaha, Nebraska; Hesperian Encampment, No. 2, I. O. F., Omaha, Nebraska; Castle No. 13, K. of P., Portland, Oregon; and Geo. H. Thomas Post, No. 2, Dept. of California, G. A. R. "There is no reason in the world why Honolulu should not be sought by people anxious for relaxation," he said, when asked as to business prospects. "The islands are advertised now as they never were before and for people who do not fear a sea trip—though many do—I cannot conceive of a pleasanter place for a holiday."

THANKSGIVING DANCE.

WAILUKU, November 29.—A dance will be given tonight at the armory in Wailuku, which will be strictly invitational. Several of the young men of Wailuku have generously subscribed to defray the expenses of this ball. Mrs. Carnegie of the Maui Hotel will have entire charge of refreshments, and the Wailuku sextette has been engaged for the evening. This is probably the only celebration of Thanksgiving day on Maui.

A LOSING CONTRACT.

WAILUKU, November 29.—Henry de Fries who erected the Wailuku Armory did the work in a very short time, in fact it was a surprise to many that the building was completed as fast as it was. Still it is said that De Fries lost nearly $600 on this contract. This is accounted for from the fact that De Fries brought his own carpenters from Honolulu and naturally had to pay them high wages. Even though every piece of lumber was cut up in Honolulu and the work on the building rushed through as fast as possible, the low figure at which De Fries secured the contract did not permit of any profit.

TWO NAVAL SHIPS EXPECTED.

Advices at the Naval Station indicate that the flagship Chicago with Admiral Goodrich aboard, will arrive here this month from San Francisco. The gunboat Concord will also accompany the

A STIRRING PLAY
IS "PAUL REVERE"PRESENTED TO AN ENTHUSIAS-TIC AUDIENCE AT ORPHEUM
LAST NIGHT—EAGLES THERE.

The stirring story of Paul Revere's ride which Longfellow has told so inspiringly in verse, Richard Buhler and his company of players told last night most delightfully in stage picture and vigorous lines. It is a play that every patriot ought to see. It stirs the blood. It recalls heroic times and heroic acts done for a heroic cause.

It was Paul Revere's ride that in many respects aroused the patriotism of the colonists to the fighting pitch. It was Paul Revere's ride that made possible some of the early victories of the American Revolution.

The play was presented for the first time at the Orpheum last night. It had a crowded house and evoked much enthusiasm. The local Aerie of Eagles chose this play as the one to attend in a body. Nearly three hundred of them were there. They made a fine appearance. There was a holiday air and abandon in the audience, the play went with a swing and a vim, and altogether it was one of the most interesting theatrical occasions Honolulu has experienced for a long time.

The play "Paul Revere" tells the story of the Boston of Revolutionary time, of the signal light in the tower of the Old North Church, and of the ride to tell the people of the surrounding village, hamlets and farms of the movements of the British. The title role is just the kind to bring out the dash and vigor and swing of which Richard Buhler is so capable. He was splendidly supported by Thomas Lowell, Harry Earl, Mr. Gleason, Mr. Auerbach, Miss Fowler, Miss Orendorf and Miss Chandler.

The play will be presented again tonight and tomorrow night, and at the matinee on Saturday.

ABOUT OUR FIRE CHIEF.

The following appears in the Firemen's Standard, of Boston, November 16: "Boston is now being visited for the first time by Chief Charles H. Thurston of the Honolulu Fire Department, and he says that the city of culture has every other municipality that he has visited beaten in every respect. Though the streets are crooked, the residents are straight, Mr. Thurston declares, and he hopes that the friends he has made in this city will be his to the end."

MCCOMBE IN HARNESS AGAIN.

Tommy McCombe, who was so well known to local people as purser of the old S. S. Australia, is a passenger on the S. S. China for Yokohama. He is going over to take the position of freight clerk on the S. S. Nippon Maru with E. J. Roberts who is to be purser. Dr. W. D. Manning, who was surgeon on the S. S. Hong Kong Maru, is also on the China to accept the position of surgeon on the Nippon Maru.

FOOTBALL REFORM
SAYS CARTER

"These agitations against football are periodical," said the governor, "and undoubtedly they do much good. I remember such an agitation somewhere about 1880 and at that time statistics which were collected showed that yachting and baseball were more dangerous than football."

"The principal thing needed in football is an umpire of sufficient strength to enforce the rules. There should be a system whereby such umpires would always be secured. When twenty-two men are keenly contesting on a football field, they will ride all over a weak man in the position of umpire, and there is much violation of the rules. Great reform would be made by having officials who would strictly enforce rules."

"The danger in football is to men who are not fit to play, because not hard enough trained. Such men are often found on the small college teams and on the smaller teams in the big colleges. A well trained man can go through the scrimmages safe and sound as a rule, if real football is played."

"The great benefit of football is in reaching self-reliance and self-restraint and discipline under great stress of excitement. Where eleven men set upon one man, it is not football, and the umpire is at fault, not the game. In the same way, if a man in the field uses his opportunities to work out personal grievances and fights, he is not playing football."

OUR "JACK"
SURPRISED
THE PLANTERS

ington,—and in its small way the administration here,—will always be found ready to co-operate. If citizens of Hawaii are in earnest in this movement, Washington wants to help them, and now is the time to show that they are in earnest.

"The news of the ruling was a surprise here. The planters had little faith in such a rule being made. When Secretary Atkinson left he told them to have plans ready to proceed in the event that a ruling was made, but they had so little faith in the matter that they have not done anything. He has certainly done very well at Washington. His cable is fine news for our main industry, and it is up to those who are interested here now to show that they are acting in good faith to secure a permanent laboring population."

"I often wonder," continued the governor "when men come to me with requests for this, that and the other, and explain to me how they are in difficulty how much they have done for the community as a whole. Of course the accumulation of wealth is something done for the community, but I mean in another way,—how much they have done to give us a permanent citizenship and build up the Territory, aside from merely using it for the making of money."

"Secretary Atkinson's cable refers to both the President and Mr. Sargent as being enthusiastic over the immigration movement here. The cable is certainly good news. It shows light ahead."

In view of the opening of the way to secure immigrants from Europe there will probably be no such great anxiety to get the Russians here from Los Angeles. Preparations are going ahead, however, to offer the land on which they want to settle. There is a practically unlimited supply of labor in Europe, and if they do not come, it is thought that other desirable laborers will.

BISHOP LIBERT
AND HIS JOURNEY

we spent several weeks and were delighted in meeting once more our relatives and friends. We went to Louvain and spent a happy time at the headquarters of the fathers there.

"We would have stayed longer in Rome than we did but for the sickness, a sort of Roman fever, which attacked Father Valentin. We left by way of Marseilles, Lourdes and Paris reached Antwerp again. We found Belgium en fête at the time of our return. The people were celebrating the 75th anniversary of their independence and there was feasting and jubilation every where."

"I am glad to be back among my people and I thank all Honolulu for the generous welcome given me."

Father Valentin, who accompanied the Bishop, returned in the best of health and was the center of an interesting group of the clergy this morning to whom he related his experience.

ED QUINN'S VACATION.

Representative Ed Quinn has arranged to take a trip to the coast to visit his people after an absence of three years. He will sail on the S. S. Korea early next month and will be absent six weeks. Meanwhile he is moving his plumbing establishment from his old quarters on Union street to a precarious store on Beretania street, Waikiki of Emma.

FATHER VALENTINE.

Francisco this morning. Various members of the local Catholic clergy were present and as were representatives of the various Catholic organizations to greet His Lordship, the Bishop of Zeugma.

Marshal Fred W. Weed was naturally the busiest man there and he was very active in marshalling the various divisions under him. He acquitted himself very well. It looked for a time however, as if his plans would not be followed, for the St. Louis College band was late in arriving, as was the delegation from that institution. Weed had the college hurriedly notified by phone, of the approach of the vessel and by the time that His Lordship was ready to disembark from the China the band was present to take its place at the head of the column.

The delegations who had gone to the water front to welcome the Bishop were permitted to wave greetings to the arriving clergy. Father James went aboard the vessel as soon as she had docked. Thomas McTigue met the China off the harbor. His Lordship looked very well and his trip appeared to have benefited his health. Father Valentin also looked well. Accompanying them were Fathers Rodrigue, Frans, Servia, Halinde and F. Engelbert Kwakman two of whom are priests and the other a lay brother. The strangers are to engage in work in the local mission.

The clergy did not leave the wharf until after the majority of the other passengers had left. Then Marshal Weed formed the various societies in the following order:

St. Louis College Band.
Boys of St. Louis College.
College Faculty
Girls of the Sacred Heart's Convent
Ladies' Aid Society
Holy Ghost Society
Ladies Auxillary, A. O. F.
Ancient Order of Hibernians
Sodality Society
Y. M. I.
Catholic Benevolent Union.
Sacred Hearts Society.
Carriage with His Lordship the Bishop
Father Valentin and the Provincial

Carriages for the Clergy.

The procession marched up Punchbowl street to King and thence Ewa to Fort to the Catholic Cathedral.

The procession arrived at the Cathedral to find that sacred fane already crowded to the doors and the organ pealed forth a welcome to the much loved bishop as he entered.

Service commenced immediately after the Bishop's arrival, Pontifical High Mass being celebrated and the Papal blessing being given by the bishop, the congregation reverently kneeling. The devotional exercises were of the most impressive nature all of the local Catholic clergy taking active part. The Cathedral was beautifully decorated with flags, the pulpit in particular being draped with a huge Stars and Stripes.

KINDERGARTNERS THANKS.

The ladies of the Free Kindergarten and Children's Aid Association wish to express their thanks to the friends who so cheerfully assisted them in the Art Doan Exhibition. To Messrs. Lewers & Cooke for the free use of their beautiful rooms so well adapted to their purpose; to the press of the city for its uniform courtesy, generosity and helpfulness; to the heads of committees and their efficient helpers; to the generous people who so freely loaned their valuable treasures of art; for many acts of kindness from generous friends; and to the kindly public who gave their patronage.

CASES IN POLICE COURT.

There were a number of cases in the police court today. Seventeen Kakaako hoodlums who had been raising disturbances were fined $10 and costs each or sent to jail for 30 days. Several Thanksgiving drunks were fined $3 and costs, but evidently there had not been much tipping yesterday for the drunks were not numerous in the court today.
